CHRISTIANSTADT (St. Croix) September 4.

ON Monday Night last blew the most violent Hurricane that has ever been known here, or perhaps on any Island, in the Memory of Man. Words are wanting to describe the Horrours of the Night; the dreadful Roar of raging Winds and Waves, the Crash of falling Buildings, the Cries and Groans of the Sufferers, the Dying and the Wounded, together with a tenfold Darkness, made visible only by the Meteors which like Balls of Fire skimmed along the Hills, formed a most terrible and most distressful Scene. When Morning came the dismal Effects of its Fury were seen in every Street, and particularly on the rising Grounds, where scarce a House is saved, so that nearly one Half of the Houses in this Place were seen thrown down, or greatly damaged; which, with the Sight of the several dead Bodies, filled every Face with Astonishment. All the Vessels in the Harbour early in the Night broke from their Moorings, and were drove on Shore; where they remain, most of them many Yards on dry Land. Accounts from the Country are yet worse, if possible; nearly all the Dwelling-Houses, and every Negro House on the Plantations, swept away by the Violence of the Gale. And from Frederickstadt, we hear there are but three Houses left standing. It is remarkable, that the Water in almost every But is become brackish. At present we cannot give an exact Account of the unhappy Persons who were killed, as every Hour comes loaded with its dismal Tale. On this melancholy Occasion his Excellency the General has devised every Thing for the Relief of the suffering Poor that the Humanity and Goodness of Heart which so eminently distingnish his Character could suggest, and for their Benefit has despatched a Vessel to the Continent, with Directions to put in at the first Port she can make, that the distressed Situation of the Inhabitants may be known as early as possible, as well as the Encouragement offered, by Proclamation, to all Persons importing Provisions for their Relief, and Lumber for rebuilding their Works, Houses, &c.

Yesterday arrived here the Schooner Hopewell, Captain William Lynn, from St. Eustatius, who parted his Cable about nine o'Clock on Monday Morning last. Twenty five Sail of Vessels put out at the same Time; the Wind continued blowing excessive hard from the north until about eleven o'Clock in the Forenoon, and about twelve the Wind shifted to the east, until one of them came to the south south east, where it blew a most terrible Gale, and so continued until about twelve o'Clock at Night, at which Time it began to moderate; and on Wednesday Morning he saw four Vessels in a most distressed Situation, three without Masts, and a large Ship lying on her Beam Ends, but was not able to speak to them; and yesterday he saw a Ship, under Jury Masts, go into St. Thomas.

It is said that his Excellency, besides many other occasional Donations, has set apart a very handsome Sum to be shared amongst the poorest Sufferers. It is to be hoped that all whom God has enabled, and on this Occasion saved from notable Damage, will go and do likewise.

It is said, to the Honour of the physical Gentlemen, that they have not only, with great Affidnity, applied all their Art and Skill where called, but have generously resolved to make no Charge on their Books on this mournful Occasion.

This Morning arrived here a large Dutch Ship, and an English Sloop, both under Jury Masts.

BASSETERRE (St. Christopher's) September 2.

WE inserted in our last the Account of a hard Gale of Wind from south west, with some Accidents that attended the same, which, to this Island's inexpressible Grief, were no more than a Prelude of our Destruction; for on Monday last, at the Dawn of Day, our angry Hemisphere predicted Violence from the north east, which by Degrees broke forth upon us with such Rage as is not to be paralleled in the Memory of the eldest Man living, destroying the Sugar Works and Plantations in general, and in short Nothing escaped its Fury. The Vessels of all Denominations, for Safety, put to Sea; and by twelve at Noon we were in Hopes that the all-gracious Providence had finished this fatal Catastrophe, but, to our mortal Sorrow, we were very unfortunately disappointed, for about that Time the Wind shifted to south west and south, which brought on us such an incessant horrible Scene of Destruction, until eight o'Clock in the Evening, that is beyond the Power of Man to relate. Nothing less threatened us, as we feared, than a total Annihilation of the Island; and those Vessels that in the Morning went in Search of Safety, and were not foundered, returned, and were driven ashore on several Parts of the Island, and scarce a House, Sugar Mill, Tree, or Plant, in this Town, Sandy Point, Old Road, or Island, but what were blown down, or very much damaged. The Damage sustained by the Planters, House Owners, and Inhabitants, is inestimable; and the Number of Lives lost, we hear, is considerable, and a great Number dangerously wounded.

September 5. The horrible Picture of this Island's general Distress, represented in our last Day's Prints, is greatly inferiour to the Original; and to enumerate and particularise on our Ills, in ever so manly and pathetick a Manner, would not change the Opaque into a Mirror, but just the reverse. It must be many Years fortunate Experience, with much Circumspection and Prudence, before it is possible we can retrieve our Losses; and sorry we are to pronounce the Sentence of Improbability on many Families, that are so far reduced, according to human Apprehension, as never to be able to recover the Shock, for, at the most moderate Calculation, the general Loss sustained cannot possibly be computed at less than five Hundred Thousand Pounds.

St. Eustatia is as it were no more. Many Houses and Families were taken from the Summit, and have not been heard of; and what was not effected by the Violence of one Element was completely so by the other, by the cruel Violence of the bellowing Waves, but Particulars we have not learned. At Dominica, by Captain Yard we have an Account of the Loss of eighteen Vessels of different Burthens at Roseau, and six at Prince Rupert's Bay; no farther Particulars relative to that Island we have yet got. At Antigua, we learn, by a Boat that arrived yesterday, that all his Majesty's Ships in English Harbour (except the Admiral's) were on Shore, and every Vessel at St. John's; and it is related, by this Conveyance, that the Island has suffered the same unhappy Devastation as ours. Seven Sail are ashore at Nevis.

September 9. From the Leeward we hear that in Saba one Hundred and eighty two Houses were destroyed by the late Hurricane, and that two Ships (one a Guineaman) are lost on the Back of that Island, and every Person on Board perished. Our Accounts from St. Martin's are more favourable, very little Damage having been done there.

Perhaps a greater Instance of the Impetuosity of the Storm cannot be given than the following, which we have just received from Sandy Point. Mr. Lewis's House, which was lofted, was separated at the Runners, and the upper Story laid softly in his own Yard, in which he and his numerous Family now actually reside, while the lower Story was rent in Pieces; so that he may be said to live in a Garret upon the Ground.

From Antigua we hear that Messr. Willock and Morson have paid fifteen Shillings a Bushel for Corn, taking a whole Cargo; and so great is their Distress at St. Eustatia, that five Half Joes have been offered for a Barrel of Flower.

ANTIGUA, September 5.

ON Monday last a most dreadful Storm happened here, which began between one and two o'Clock in the Morning, continued increasing until near ten, and was not properly assuaged until five in the Afternoon. To attempt a Detail of the Mischief done to Individuals by this dreadful Tempest would be endless, as every One has suffered in a greater or less Degree. We should fail likewise were we to attempt, by Language, to raise any adequate Idea of the Dreadfulness of the Scene. We can only say that it can be better conceived than expressed, and even here the most fruitful Imagination would fall far short. Let it suffice then for us to say, generally, that all the Vessels in the different Harbours (with very few Exceptions, which we shall take Notice of hereafter) were either sunk, overset, or driven ashore. Even that secure Place, English Harbour, was not a sufficient Asylum for the Vessels there: His Majesty's Ships Chatham, Active, Seahorse, and Falcon, were driven from their Moorings, and suffered greatly; the former lost her Foremast, and the others have not a Mast standing. One Ship in the Harbour of St. John, by having her Masts cut away, with two Sloops, in a miraculous Manner rode out the Storm; one Ship drove to Sea, and has not since been heard of. The Church, Courthouse, Barracks, and most, if not all, the publick Buildings, are greatly injured; and very few, if any, of the Houses in St. John's, have escaped. All the Buildings, Windmills, Works, &c. on every Estate, or the greatest Part of them, are levelled with the Ground; many Negroes killed, and Numbers wounded; the Cattle and other live Stock shared the same Fate, the Ground Provisions destroyed, and the Prospect of a Crop for next Year much cut off. The Loss sustained by the Fire in 1769 cannot be put in Competition with the present Calamity.

Mrs. White, Wife of Mr. George White, Merchant, and Doctor Gavin Montgomery, unfortunately lost their Lives in the Storm. Mr. White had his Collar Bone broke, and is since dead; and many others, whose Names we have not as yet been acquainted with. By the Fall of his Majesty's Hospital at English Harbour, we hear that ten of the Sick there, and the Nurse, were buried in the Ruins.

From Dominica we have an Account that there are fifteen Sail of Vessels ashore there, but the Storm was not so severe as in this Island; and the like Accounts of the Weather from the Leeward.

NEW YORK, October 5.

CAPTAIN Giffen, arrived here from St. Martin's, says that he lay at St. Lucia the 28th and 31st of August, in very fine Weather, and had Nothing of the Gale there. The 3d of September he passed by Prince Rupert's Bay, Dominica, and saw three Brigs lying at Anchor safe; but at Roseau, seventeen Vessels were lost. At Basseterre, Guadaloupe, he saw five Sail ashore. A Schooner from Virginia, with Corn, was arrived at St. Eustatia, which was selling at ten Bits a Bushel. Three Vessels were lost at St. Martin's, belonging to the Eastward, Sails and Rigging saved; two other Brigs got into Simpson's Bay, and one of them purchased the Masts, Sails, and Rigging, to refit his Vessel, for one Hundred and thirty Half Joes.

October 12. Wednesday last the Sloop Sally, Captain Montgomery, arrived here from Barbados, in thirty Days. He lay at Carlisle Bay the 27th and 28th of August, and says that only one Vessel was drove ashore there, a Brig; and a Sloop, having parted one of her Cables, was obliged to cut the other and stand to Sea. Captain Montgomery also says, that all the Transports with the Troops from Boston were safe arrived at Barbados, and had sailed for St. Vincent's.

The 21st of September Captain Montgomery spoke with Captain Brown, from Guadaloupe for Boston, who informed him that eighteen Sail of Vessels were drove ashore at that Island, and much Damage done to the Plantations.

Last Thursday Afternoon, in the Presence of a vast Concourse of People, was launched, by the well known and experienced Messr. Totten and Crossfield, of this City, Shipwrights, the Ship Experiment, George Robinson Commander, built for the North Country Trade. She is justly esteemed as complete and good a Vessel as ever was built in this Province.

PRINCETOWN (New Jersey) October 6.

ON Monday the 28th ult. the Grammar School at Nassau Hall was examined, and the Scholars acquitted themselves greatly to the Satisfaction of the Gentlemen who were pleased to attend. The Senior Class, ten in Number, were admitted into the Freshman Class in the College. In the Evening this Class performed a dramatick Piece, in Latin, before a numerous and learned Audience.

On Tuesday the 29th voluntary Competitions for Premiums, among the Students of the College, in several Branches of Learning, were attended in the publick Library by a very respectable Number of Gentlemen of Letters, and Graduates from different Colleges. Seven Judges were elected to decide in each Competition. In "reading English," the highest Premium was adjudged to Belcher Peartree Smith, from Elizabeth Town, New Jersey, of the Junior Class; the next to John Bayard Rodgers, from New York, of the Freshman; the third to John Smith, from Pennsylvania, of the Junior. In "reading Latin and Greek," the first Premium was adjudged to Samuel Waugh, from Pennsylvania; the second to John Wotherspoon, of Princetown; the third to John Smith, all of the Junior Class. In "translating from English into Latin," the first to Samuel Waugh, the second to Isaac Keith, the third to Daniel Martin; the two latter from Pennsylvania, and of the Freshman Class. In "speaking Latin," the first to Isaac Keith, the second to John Blair, from Ulster County, New York; the third to Charles Lee, from Virginia; all of the Freshman Class. In "pronouncing Pieces from the Stage," the highest Premium was adjudged to Jonathan Mason, from Boston, New England, of the Sophomore Class; the next to Belcher Peartree Smith; the third to Charles Lee. Mr. Thomas Kittera, of Lancaster County, Pennsylvania, was pleased liberally to present two Premiums of considerable Value, confined to the Freshman Class; the first to be given to the Boy who should discover "the best Acquaintance with Latin Grammar," the second to "the best Scholar in English Grammar." The first was adjudged to Isaac Keith, the second to William Claypole, from Philadelphia.

On Wednesday the 30th the Anniversary Commencement was held in the Church. At ten o'Clock the Assembly being seated, the President introduced the Business of the Day with Prayer; after which Mr. Grier delivered a salutatory Oration, "De Utilitate Scientiarum excolendarum." Mr. Fithian then supported this Thesis, "Political Jealousy is a laudable Passion," and was opposed by Mr. Alexander. To this succeeded an Oration on "Castle Building," pronounced by Mr. Burr. The next Exercise was a Dispute upon this Proposition, "A mixed Monarchy is the best Form of Government;" Mr. Hunter defended it, and Mr. Luckey opposed him. An Oration on "Passive Obedience and Non-Resistance," delivered by Mr. Reese, concluded the Business of the Forenoon.

At three o'Clock in the Afternoon, when the Assembly were again seated, Mr. Linn delivered an Oration on "Independence of Spirit." The following Thesis was then maintained by Mr. Finley, "Amor Patriæ non debet Virtus haberi, nisi ad Benevolentiam ergo Universos referatur," and was opposed by Mr. Keith. After this a Dialogue on "the proper Employment of the Time of Youth," composed by a Graduate of the College, was spoken by Messr. Evans, Finley, and Hodge. The next in Order was an Oration on "the Advantages of political Liberty," pronounced by Mr. Eckley. Mr. Burnet, a Candidate for the second Degree in the Arts, then delivered an Oration on "the Principles of Criticism and Taste;" and Mr. Davenport, another Candidate for the second Degree, an Oration on "the Influence which Success has in fixing the general Estimation of the Merit of Actions."

The President then conferred the Degree of B. A. on the following young Gentlemen, Alumni of the College: Isaac Alexander Moses Allen, Robert Archibald, William Bradford, Andrew Bryan, Aaron Burr, John Debowe, Joseph Eckley, Israel Evans, Ebenezer Finley, Philip Fithian, James Grier, Andrew Hodge, Andrew Hunter, Robert Keith, William Linn, William Smith Livingston, Samuel Maccorkle, John Macmillan, Oliver Reese, James Templeton; and the Degree of M. A. on the following Gentlemen, Alumni of the College, John Beatty, Matthias Burnet, John Davenport, James Linn, Thomas Melville, Samuel Smith, William Wilcocks.

Archibald Gamble, B. A. of Philadelphia College, was admitted ad eundem in this College. John Hotchkis, M. A. of Yale College, and Harvard College ad eundem. Andrew Oliver, Esquire, M. A. of Harvard College, ad eundem in this College. The Reverend Thomas Reid, of Newark, B. A. of Philadelphia, to the Degree of M. A. in this College. David Rittenhouse, M. A. of Philadelphia College, ad eundem in this College. The Reverend Henry Hunter, of London, M. A. to the Degree of Doctor in Divinity. The Reverend John Adam, of Greenock, in North Britain, M. A. to the Degree of Doctor in Divinity.

Mr. Bradford then pronounced a valedictory Oration, on "the Disadvantages of an unequal Distribution of Property in a State;" and the President concluded the Whole with Prayer.

The Exercises both of the Forenoon and Afternoon were preceded and closed with vocal Musick, by a select Number of the Students. The Assembly was numerous, learned, and polite, consisting of Persons of Rank and Fortune from almost all Provinces on the Continent, some of the most distant; and who will, doubtless, do Justice to the real Merit of the Speakers, and the present State of the College, which is truly flourishing.

PHILADELPHIA, October 7.

A LETTER from St. Croix says the Governour has given his Word and Honour that Sugars should be shipped off, Duty free, to the full Amount of all Cargoes of Lumber or Provisions brought there.

Extract of a Letter from St. Eustatia, September 9.

"On the 31st Day of August last a violent Gale of Wind came on here in the Morning, from the north, which shifted at different Times between that and south east; the hardest was between twelve and one o'Clock, but it abated in the Evening. There were thirty five Sail of Vessels in the Road, all drove to Sea, and only five are yet returned; we hear two were cast ashore on Saba, and the Crew of one entirely lost. The better Half of the Houses on the Hill were blown down, and all the out Buildings and Negro Houses on the Island. Many of our Friends have suffered much, by the Loss of their Houses and every Thing in them; sundry white People are much bruised, and many Negro Lives are lost. The Houses on the Bay came off much better than those on the Hill, as there are but few blown down. Fortunately came in, two Days ago, to our great Relief, Captain Jenkins, with Provisions, as we had not any here before, and the poor People were near starving. We this Day hear that some of the Vessels have got into Tortola, St Thomas, and St. Croix, dismasted; the Gale there was equally hard, and all the Vessels of each Port on Shore. It was very moderate at Montserrat."

Extract of a Letter from St. Croix, September 2.

"This serves to give you a faint Description of the dreadful Hurricane which happened here on Monday the 31st ult. It began to blow about four o'Clock in the Afternoon, from N. N. W. to N. W. and continued at that Point till ten o'Clock at Night, with such Violence, that all the Vessels, consisting of about forty two Sail, which lay in the Harbour, were drove ashore; many of which now lie high and dry, but cannot as yet say whether they have received any considerable Damage. The greatest Difficulty will be to get the large Ones off, as we have not the proper Conveniencies for that Purpose. There was a Lull for about Half an Hour after the first Gale, when the Wind shifted round to S. W. and blew with greater Violence for about two Hours, which threw down two Thirds of the Houses in the Town level with the Ground; and every Estate in the Island suffered considerably. In Fact, almost all the Dwelling Houses, Boiling Houses, Negro Houses, &c. are blown down; Numbers of Lives are lost, and many who survived have lived to see themselves ruined in the Night. It is impossible to paint the Scene of Horrour and Devastation that appears throughout the Face of this once beautiful Isle, nor can you form any Idea of it. The Lumber in the Yards is entirely washed out, many Barrels of Provisions in the Stores damaged and washed away by the Sea, and all the Provisions in the Ground entirely destroyed; so that unless we are supplied with Provisions I dread the Consequence, as a Famine must ensue."

Extract of another Letter from St. Croix, September 2.

"A Sloop that arrived here yesterday Morning, contrary to all Expectation, carries this to your Continent; and was I capable to write, it ought to carry an Account of the most frightful Scene that ever happened in the West Indies. August 31st it rained considerably, and after Sunset it began to blow hard; soon after we were convinced it was a Hurricane, which continued till nine. I thought it was almost impossible for Nature to exert herself with more Violence; but at ten o'Clock we found that the Power of the Almighty is inexhaustible, and it continued with unspeakable Violence till Half after twelve o'Clock. Now, my dear Sir, give a free Career to your Imagination, or you will not be able to represent to yourself any Thing equal to the inexpressible Condition of this Island during the two Storms. I have, as yet, got but little News from the Country, but enough to shock a Heart that has any Feeling. Basseterre is a Heap of Confusion, though many Houses are still standing, yet every Quarter and Corner seems to be a Lumber Yard; but it is in vain to expect a Description of the Desolation from our Church up to the Mountain, and from Gallows Bay to the Burying Place; Water Gut Side is as bad. The Heart of the Town would take a Sheet of Paper to describe it. The English Church was levelled. Mr. Goodchild's House likewise; that good Family are to be pitied, for they have suffered inconceivably. Mr. Knox's Church is down. The Danish, Dutch, and Catholick Churches, stand; but the latter lost a little of one Gable, besides some Windows and Doors. The Cellars were uninhabitable towards the Sea, and the upper Parts of almost every House were as bad, by the inconceivable Pour of Rain that continued during the whole Storm. Mr. and Mrs. Stretch had like to have been drowned, in the Street, as they were going to Mr. Vanwike's. Almost all the Offices are down; from Captain Wood's to Harriet's there is an even Plain, and from thence to Mr. De Vint's. Mr. Stretch and Mr. Harriet's four Houses stand. Mr. Mervoy's Storehouses, in Harriett's Yard, were near finished, and the finest ever seen in this Island, but are now a Heap of Rubbish; his Compting House was damaged. All the Vessels in the Harbour are in a deplorable Condition, upon the Land; and very few, if any, will ever be got off. The Sloop that carries this to the Continent came in yesterday, and is sent off by Government. This Island is actually made a free Port. The Rigging of some Houses are now their Ground Floors; others have been carried several Yards, with the Inhabitants, and still remain in their natural Situation, on other Spots of Ground, and some in the Middle of the Streets; others moved at one End several Feet or Yards. Belview House, Works, and Mill, are greatly damaged. Cane Garden is levelled, but the Mill and Works are safe. I do not know of a Negro House standing in the Island. Richmond has suffered greatly. Thomas Lilly has lost all, except the Body of a Dwelling-House, but chiefly his Compting House, with all his valuable Papers. Mr. Supple has not a Stick but the Mill. They made their Way to Richmond, in the Midst of the second Gale, by creeping on their Hands and Feet. Mr. Francis Markoe hath suffered in his Works, and Part of his House is stripped; his Brother is in the same Condition, but they came off very well. Doctor Farrel's Works are hurt, but his House stood firm: The Family of Belview is there now; he is greatly damaged at Salt River. Mr. Moylan has not a Stick standing. Mr. Isaac Markoe's House and Works are levelled. Messr. Robert Farrel, the Irwins, Brugar, Cohoon, &c. &c. are, I hear, in the same Condition; all Mr. Toite's Places likewise. Many Windmills are down, or greatly damaged. We cannot discover above twelve Whites killed in Portland; but many Negroes have been killed, in Town and Country. The Rain consisted chiefly of Sea Water, which makes most Part of the Water in Town brackish. All the north Side is greatly damaged."

WILLIAMSBURG, October 29.

LAST Monday, being the Anniversary of the Accession of our most gracious Sovereign to the Throne, his Excellency the Governour gave a Ball and splendid Entertainment at the Palace, to a numerous and brilliant Company of Ladies and Gentlemen, among them several Persons of Distinction from the Northward, lately arrived.

The same Day the Reverend Mr. CAMM was sworn in of the Council of this Colony, and took his Seat at the Board.

Last Saturday a Barn near this City, belonging to Mr. John Pearce, by some Accident took Fire and was burnt to the Ground, in which was his whole Crop of Tobacco, &c.

The Randolph, M'Nabb, arrived in the Downs the 23d of August.

The Dawes, Brown, from London, and the Homer, Miller, from Glasgow, are arrived in James River.

BEDFORD Courthouse, October 15, 1772.

ABOUT the Beginning of last Month one Lewis brought a Waggon Load of Goods from Petersburg to this Place, in a Waggon belonging to one Dennis of Petersburg. After delivering the Goods, he carried his Waggon to a Blacksmith's Shop, and turned out his Horses. There was a Man along with him who called himself Adams, and said he was a Blacksmith, looking for Work. The Night after they delivered the Goods they both disappeared, and next Day two of my Horses were missing; which, as they were both raised in this Neighbourhood, would not run away. Lewis left the Waggon and Team here, and every Thing belonging to them, except two Saddles, and he and Adams have been since seen, on the Road that leads from Petersburg to Carolina, with three Horses. From this I conclude that mine are stolen, and that they are the Thieves. I will give TEN POUNDS to any Person that will apprehend either or both of them, with the Horses, and secure them so that the Law may take its Course; and FIVE POUNDS more for delivering the Horses to Mr. James Donald at Rocky Ridge, or to me at Bedford Courthouse. The Description of the Horses is as follows: One a white Gelding about four Feet ten Inches high, seven Years old, with a hanging Mane and Switch Tail, is a natural Pacer, branded with I on the Shoulder, and A on the Buttock; the other a Bay, the same Height and Age, with a roached Mane and Switch Tail, is a natural Pacer, and branded B on one Buttock.

ALBEMARLE, October 1, 1772.

WHEREAS in October 1771 I advertiſed my having purchaſed of Mr. Rolling Jones, of this County, a Negro Girl named MOLL, whom I was ſuſpicious he might have made ſome Conveyance of before I bought her, and at the ſame Time deſired any Perſon that might have any Title to the ſaid Girl to make it known to me, but no One has yet produced any; and as I conceive the legal Title to the ſaid Negro is now veſted in me, and have ſtill Part of the Purchaſe Money in my Hands, this is to notify that I am ready to make Payment to any One who has a Right to receive it.

HANOVER, October 1, 1772.

COLONEL Nathaniel Weſt Dandridge, of this County, who maintains a Tutor in his Family, is willing to accommodate ten Pupils with Diet and Waſhing, at the Rate of fifteen Pounds a Year, provided his Deſign appears to meet Encouragement by the Number of Applications made him before the firſt of December. Colonel Dandridge and his Lady are ſo well known that more needs not be ſaid concerning their Part of the Undertaking. Their Houſe is large and commodious, and in as healthy a Situation as any in the Colony.

The Branches of Learning which the preſent Tutor chiefly profeſſes to teach are Reading, Writing, Engliſh, Latin, and Greek Grammar, Arithmetick, Book-Keeping, ancient and modern Geography, Chronology, Hiſtory, Greek and Roman Antiquities, Mythology, &c. In the Courſe of reading the Claſſicks he explains the Tropes and Figures of Rhetoricks, and makes occaſional Remarks on the natural and moral Philoſophy of the Ancients.

He would not inſinuate that he handles theſe Subjects with ſcholaſtick Deduction, or inculcates his Inſtructions with the Aids of rhetorical Embelliſhments. Men of Senſe muſt know that ſuch an Undertaking would require the Labours of one or more learned Profeſſors, and indeed is utterly incompatible with the Time and Capacities of Boys at School. His Deſign will not prove abortive if he ſucceeds in kindling the Spark of Genius, in inflaming the Ardour of Curioſity, in improving the Taſte, in inſpiring the Sentiments of genuine Freedom. He would humbly hope to be uſeful in preparing his Pupils for more learned Seminaries, or qualifying them to enjoy, with greater Comfort, the common Walks of private Life. In this Purſuit, the Claſſicks muſt neceſſarily engage a great Part of his Attention. To them, and to ſuch other Branches as ſerve to illuſtrate them, and make the Study of them more agreeable to Youth, he would chooſe to be confined. His Plan, thus limited, he apprehends, may afford ſufficient Employment to a Man of ſlender Abilities.

 Whereas ſeveral Scholars were kept back for ſome Months paſt, becauſe the Tutor would not engage for any Time, this Advertiſement may be conſidered as an Earneſt of his Intention to continue here, and of his Reſolution to proſecute his Buſineſs with unremitted Application. His Price for teaching is five Pounds a Year for each Scholar.

The MISER.

IN these infectious Times, alas!
When Vice well arm'd for Virtue pass,
Some bold strong Hand to pluck there weeds,
Out, Root and Branch, such noxious Weeds,
The Rake, the Fop, the Belles and Beaus,
Their Follies of themselves expose;
To scourge these Fools is not my Plan,
I seek a Wretch, th' unfeeling Man.
Assist me, Satyr's keenest Dart,
To pierce quite through his rankling Heart.
Now, by the Stories Poets tell,
We need not search so far as Hell;
For still, to make you something wiser,
This Monster's called with us a Miser.
And though 'tis robbing with the Law,
We'll to the Life his Picture draw:
The feeble Dotard, who one Limb
Can scarcely move, whose Eyes are dim;
(I mention this, because in Age
It transforms Vengeance into Rage)
Who tottering on the Brink of Time,
(Which surely aggravates the Crime)
Who though possess'd of Wealth great Store,
His severish Soul still longs for more,
The tender Passions shun his Breast,
He lives to all a publick Pest;
His Lot in Death is more severe,
Nor Friend nor Kindred drop a Tear;
His Prayer, his Creed, his Deity,
Consist in M,O,N,E,Y.
